CLASS HISTORY

As we turn the page to a new life
And close the book of fifty-two;
We want to leave a history of
Our twelve eventful years with you.

Just a few years ago
It seems only a day;
It was in the year of Nineteen-Forty,
The month was the last of May.

We had entered the halls of learning,
And had come forth with knowledge rare,
We knew immensely of 'riting,
But for 'reading and 'rithmetic, we didn't care.

Only fifteen of the Seniors now
Began the venture of grade school together.
But along the paths of Stuart Grade School
They were added with gusty measure.

The Three Little Kittens put on their mittens
When the Beauty Pageant they were guests,
Amidst the applause, they wiped their paws,
And each one thought he had done the best.

In the third grade two pupils retired
To give way to one addition,
The fourth and fifth likewise gave two,
In keeping with the tradition.

And even so, these blessed ones
Plagued the grade school faculty,
With many new games, and the term, "Little Angel,"
Applied with forthright accuracy.

Under Mrs. Taylor, we began to read
Of Pinocchio's travels through the world.
In the sixth grade Linward joined us,
And thirteen different teachers taught us boys and girls.

After seven years we gained the Wood boys,
And grasped firmly the ladder to success.
What was waiting at the end,
We never could have guessed.

Thirty-odd busy students, in the seventh were we;
Some joined the school band for bugle and drum.
With Mrs. Newman's help we gave a play at Christmas.
That year we learned civics and how to chew gum.

A president we had in the eighth;
Peggy ruled with an able hand.
In '47 we gained Lennis, Dovie, Elda, and Nancy;
From Central Academy, they joined our band.

And then we were first divided
Between sections 8A and B.
We soon learned the true meaning
Of X equals Y minus Z.

We all tried hard, and were rewarded
By passing grades the teachers gave.
Through initiations we stood up grandly,
And tried hard our dignity to save.

What is so rare as the day in September,
When you leave the grades and enter in
To a world of bustling boys and girls,
Who have found that through living and giving they'll win.

As Freshmen, we learned and as Freshmen, we thought;
There were clubs to join and we began
To understand what makes up a school day,
And we all offered to lend our hand.

In '48 Betty Sue, Virleane, and Joy Lou
Joined the loyal members of our class.
The first two from Red Bank, the others from Monterey,
Of the 31 Seniors, these were the last.

In our Sophomore year, under Miss Persohn,
We learned of diagrams, and a school paper started.
It was christened, the Newstoter, after much debating;
But after three issues, Miss Persohn departed.

When we reached the lofty heights of Juniors,
We found there was more to school than fun.
Between the Junior-Senior Banquet, and the Christmas Party,
We were kept very much on the run.

The one-act Play and the Beta-Convention
Set the Juniors a matchless pace.
Joy Lou was crowned Miss Stuart Hi,
And thoughts of our class ring brought joy to each face.

Softball, Basketball, Volleyball, and Baseball;
We never excelled but gave all a fight.
Until fifty-one when our boys fairly won
The basketball trophy, all gold and white.

The Senior all-stars were Betty Sue and Linward,
Their accuracy was grand to behold.
The Stuart Boys journeyed on, still playing and winning,
Until they won the State Championship, which was their goal.

In the twelfth for our President, we chose Billy,
With Kitty Hazelwood next in line.
Janie was responsible for the minutes,
And Betty Sue kept our dues and fines.

Thus, we look forward and never back,
To the Banquet, Graduation, and Senior Days;
With our able sponsor, Mrs. Hazelwood,
To help us put on the Senior Play.

Then, in caps and gowns of blue and white.
With memories enough to last for years,
We'll salute Valedictorian, Peggy, and Salutatorian, Margaret,
And receive our diplomas and smile through the tears.

And as we all depart at last
None of us need to confess,
That the years have been perfect, and Stuart High School,
Started us on the happy road to success.

CLASS PROPHECY

Dear Diary:

I can hear gay laughter on deck as I watch the stars through the windows in my cabin on board the Marroniah.

We started the week-end cruise with a group of boisterous people who were on board and settled when I arrived on deck.

Most of the people were overjoyed to be out on the beautiful Atlantic Ocean. Many grand activities have been planned to make this the best trip ever.

This thought in mind I will continue later with my diary and go on deck to visit some of the folks aboard.

As I walked on deck I heard a loud crash and people gathered around. In the midst of them, to my amazement there was Frank Harris (whom I never could forget) a great comedian doing some of his usual stunts.

As I looked about me I found to my great surprise there were going to be several of the Class of '52 here. As the evening wore on I found that many of my former classmates had varied in their occupations and several of them had become famous to the public.

There was Helen Scott and Elinor Ray Owens who had become famous through their singing and dancing and had just finished a hit on Broadway.

Glancing to the far end of the deck I saw Mrs. Hazelwood (our Senior homeroom teacher) looking as young and pretty as ever with Mr. Hazelwood talking to Lennis Martin and her husband who had just received a degree in medicine.

Just then a large gale arose and the gust of wind prompted me to enter a large room where a ball was being held. There in the center of the room whirling in an exaggerated English Ballet Dance was Joy Lou Simmons looking very much the same as she did at Stuart High.

Seated at the piano was Peggy Lou Hopkins who through training had reached the peak of her profession as a concert pianist. Then I caught a glimpse of a couple of young ladies who were standing with open mouths gazing at a rather large, broad-shouldered man with a vacuum cleaner in his hand. Looking closer I discovered that the man was Aaron Wood, who gained his experience as a salesman at the Stuart candy store.

As this wonderful evening has almost passed I have learned many things about the professions and businesses of the Class of '52. The best part of the evening was the great surprise of my former classmates being here with me. Of course all of this was arranged by our Secretary of State, Billy Gunter.

I, the Captain of this ship, retire now to my quarters where I shall have wonderful news for my diary. I shall continue where I left off by telling something about each one of the Class of '52 at Stuart High who were on board tonight.

I will tell you first about my right-hand man, Page Clark (who everyone thought) made a wonderful FIRST Mate.

Janie Handy has become a well known artist and promised to paint a picture of my ship.

Betty Maye Roberson and her husband are here, and her husband is a jet test pilot for the Jet Inc., Chicago, Ill.

Linward Simmons has just quit professional basketball and is now head coach at Yale University.

Mary Vipperman, now a Captain in the WAF, has gained the affection of all there by her sweet way of giving orders.

Marion Wood, one of the famous actors of Hollywood, just returned last week from a tour in London.

Margaret Morse and her husband have just gained recognition through their invention of the four-way milking machine.

Leonard Puckett and Jimmy Durante have teamed up as father and son and have recently been starred on Broadway.

Kitty Hazelwood seemed very happy tonight as she has just sold her novel "Too Young to Wed."

Donald Wood is now a changed person since he became Minister of St. Mary's Cathedral in New York.

Betty Jean Williams is now secretary to the president of the United States, Ernest Willard. President Willard has just taken office.

Frances Haley, the well known columnist, made the headlines when she married the Governor of Virginia last week.

Elda Lawson has now secured the position of private secretary to R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Co.

Nancy Hopkins has just settled down after following her husband from base to base during his training with Uncle Sam.

Thomas Clifton, chief manager of the Trans-World Air Lines, is doing very well for himself.

Dovie Hughes makes the nurses in the Johns Hopkins Hospital step around since she has become head nurse.

Betty Whitten, it seems, has married her former boss and is now living in Tennessee.

Rachel Hundley is now assistant manager to DuPont Inc.

Annie Belle Hall has just opened a new T. V. show entitled "How to Be Funny."

With these wonderful memories written in my diary to let me never forget this wonderful evening, I close by saying that the Class of '52 did well by the education they received at Stuart High.

I, Sammy Floyd, am very proud to be the Captain of this ship and very happy since I have seen all my old friends.

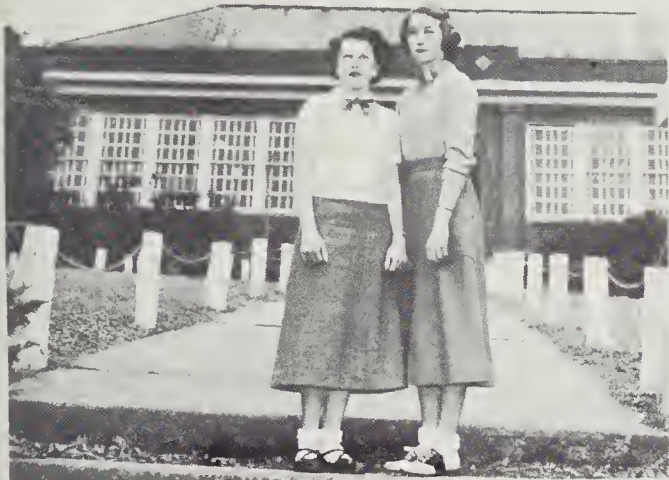

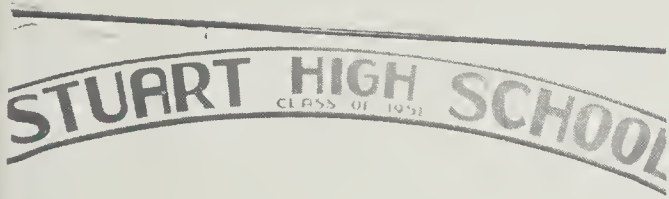

Good Night!

"WHAT WOULD HAPPEN IF"

What would happen if the Seniors learned to diagram complex sentences?

What would happen if Mrs. Hazelwood came into the Senior Room and was met by complete silence?

What would happen if Miss Alexander would pick a day besides Monday for timed writings?

What would happen if the second year typing students missed one typewriter when they were preparing them for the first year students?

What would happen if Mary failed to go on the mountain every Sunday?

What would happen if Annie Belle stopped laughing?

What would happen if Betty Sue lost her ability to play ball?

What would happen if Ernest became serious?

What would happen if Santa brought Linward a brand-new tooth?

What would happen if Betty Maye Roberson lost her blue stone class ring?

What would happen if Mrs. Powell didn't teach some of the Seniors?

What would happen if Rachel and her boy friend didn't run a "taxi" on Saturday night?

What would happen if Janie Handy and "Turk" were late for work?

What would happen if the D. O. class went on strike?

What would happen if People couldn't call Kitty "Kitten"?

What would happen if Margaret failed to pass "Pops" every evening?

What would happen if the majority of the Senior Class should agree on some

What would happen if the Juniors got their class rings before Christmas?
matter in less than a week?

What would happen to Mr. Price if Stuart won the State Championship another year?

What would happen if Elinor Ray lost her comb and mirror?

What would happen if Thomas Clifton couldn't save a girl a seat on the bus every afternoon?

What would happen if Ernest Willard's curly-que wouldn't curl?

What would happen if Helen Scott stopped flirting?

What would happen if Lennis stopped going with Tommy Correll?

What would happen if Marion lost his romantic touch?

What would happen if Donald made zero on geometry?

What would happen to Nancy if Calvin had to go help Uncle Sam?

What would happen if Billy Gunter couldn't save a girl a seat on the heater.

What would happen if Aaron stopped carrying popcorn to the office 5th period.

LAST WILL AND TESTAMENT

We, the Senior Class of Stuart High School of the year 1951-1952, of Patrick County, the State of Virginia, have at last reached the final rank of our high school career, and so being in sound body and mind, we bequeath the following:

To our Superintendent, Mr. Law, we wish to leave our fullest appreciation for the help he has given us during our school days.

To Mr. Via, our Principal, we will our appreciation and thanks for the aid he has given us.

To the faculty we will our sincere gratitude for all they have done for us, though we may not show it now, we know that in years to come we will appreciate their efforts in trying to help us.

To Mrs. Hazelwood, our homeroom teacher, we leave our sincere thanks and deep appreciation for the assistance she has given us during our most important school year.

To Mrs. Powell we leave a music class in which all the members sing like Perry Como.

To Mrs. Gertrude Hopkins we leave a little "Toni" doll to remind her of Peggy Lou who will be at college.

To Miss McAlexander we will a shorthand class that doesn't complain all the time about something.

Mr. Williams will be happy to receive a F. F. A. Dairy Judging Team that can win a contest and get to go to the National Convention.

To Mrs. Wood and Mrs. Mildred Hopkins we leave the requirement that school start one hour later the weeks they are on early bus duty so they won't have to leave home so early.

To Miss Mitchell we leave the position of girls' coach so she can keep "Jewels" while the girls play ball.

Mr. Price will be happy to receive a government class in which all the pupils can pass his test, and also another basketball team that can win the State Championship.

To Mr. Darst we leave a book with a list of jobs for all of next year's D. O. students so he won't have to look for jobs for them.

To Miss Bales we leave a little cottage in which to have her Home Economics classes with not more than seven girls in each class.

To Mrs. Moore we will an automatic machine that says "get quiet" so she won't have to use her voice so much in study hall.

To Miss Bateman we will an alarm clock so that she can get to school on time. who wants it and hopes they'll enjoy it as much as she did.

Nancy Hopkins leaves her ability to control her temper and her quiet ways to William Lee Ross. Please, try to use this ability if possible.

Rachel Hundley leaves her height to Elizabeth Handy in hopes that she can see over everybody's head.

Frank Harris leaves to David Church a copy of a book entitled "How I learned to Play Basketball." We hope David will take lessons from this book.

Betty Sue Hill leaves her position as "all star" to June Belton who has been playing fine basketball.

Betty May Roberson leaves to Shirley Roberson the right to date Meadows of Dan boys six nights a week.

Janie Handy leaves all of her good grades to Lane Williams and Lane please make good use of them.

Annie Belle Hall leaves her job as saleslady to Albion Turner and advises her to go to work regularly.

Peggy Lou Hopkins leaves her job as scorekeeper at basketball games to anyone who wants it and hopes they'll enjoy it as much as she did.

Linward Simmons leaves his place as high scorer in basketball games to brother Bill. Bill, we hope, won't have too much trouble doing this.

Lennis Martin leaves her light hair to Betty Ann Stigall so that Betty Ann can be different.

Aaron Wood leaves his job in the candy store to Ralph Beasley and we hope he'll do as good a job as Aaron has done.

Betty Jean Williams leaves her seat in government class along with her ability to read while laughing to Mary Joyce Fields.

Billy Gunter wills his position as substitute bus driver to Frank Heath.

Elinor Ray Owens leaves her pocketbook and the contents to Betty Sue Martin so she will always have a comb, mirror and chewing gum.

Leonard Puckett leaves his ability to carry on a conversation in class to Patsy Goard.

Virleane Rogers leaves her job to anyone who wants it. What about Idallas Holt, wouldn't you like it?

Donald Wood leaves his books and his front seat in the Senior Room to Thomas Inman.

Joy Lou Simmons leaves her "usual scream" out of things to Evelyn Blaylock so she will enjoy being seen and heard.

Mary Vipperman leaves the right to carry the absentee slip to the office each morning to Charlene Roberson.

To all the Sophomores we leave one request "Please do not disturb the Senior's books in their homeroom."

Page Clark can't decide what to leave but he wills his brother Dud the jeep to come to school in each day.

To Belle Hopkins, Helen Schott wills her Shorthand Book so Belle will always have something to do and won't have time to laugh so much.

Thomas Clifton leaves his ability to get along with girls to Kenneth Cain.

Marion Wood leaves his ability to get out of study hall each day to any Junior who can do as well.

To Barbara Willard we leave all our best wishes for a successful year in guarding the basketball players from other schools.

Ernest Willard leaves his title "Lover Boy," although he really hates to give it up, to Charles Flippin.

Margaret Morse and Kitty Hazelwood leave their seats in the Senior room that are side by side to Dorothy Hughes and Lillian Williams so they won't be separated for long at the time.

Dovie Hughes leaves her typing book to Betty Lou Quesinberry. It will be found under the dust on the shelf in the closet in the Commercial room.

Sammy Floyd leaves his job at Doss Home Appliances to Edward Gray.

All the Juniors will be glad to learn that Betty Whitten is leaving each of them a library book to read with a book report for each one.

Elda Lawson leaves her quiet dignity to Betty Lou Collins.

Frances Haley has decided to take Cecil with her so she leaves her job in D. O. to anyone who can make more money than she does.

Having left so many things and not being able to find anything else to leave we do make, declare, and publish this our last will and testament.

Put a Pause for Coke on your Program too!

The whole crowd goes for refreshment. When the gang gets together for a dance session, one of the first thoughts at intermission is for an ice-cold Coca-Cola. Everybody knows Coke is delicious and refreshing.
